The routes that will be switched onto the new branded fares structure will be different for Turkish Airlines than AnadoluJet.

For Turkish Airlines flights, while some of the international flights to and from Türkiye will move to branded fares, the destinations that are not included, will continue to appear with the current fare structure.

All Turkish Airlines flights from international to international (beyond Türkiye) will be excluded from the new branded fares. The current pricing structure for these flights will continue. For example; The fare shown for Frankfurt-Istanbul (FRA-IST) route will be applied with the new structure (branded fares).

Frankfurt – Istanbul - Trabzon (FRA-IST-TZX) route will be applied with the new structure (branded fares).

Frankfurt – Istanbul - Dubai (FRA-IST-DXB) new structure (branded fares) will not be applied since this is a route from an international to international destination.

For AnadoluJet flights, this application covers both departures and arrivals from/to Türkiye and beyond Türkiye flights. For example;

The fare shown for Paris- Istanbul - Tel Aviv (PAR-SAW-TLV) route will be applied with the new structure.

The fare shown for Paris – Istanbul (PAR-SAW) route will be applied with the new structure.

The fare shown for Paris – Istanbul – Trabzon (PAR-SAW-TZX) route will be applied with the new structure.

Our passengers are able to purchase additional services (e.g. baggage allowance, seat selection, etc.) regardless of the branded fare type. For example, a passenger who purchases a ticket without baggage allowance (EcoFly) has the opportunity to purchase extra baggage allowance. Passengers who have purchased their tickets with ExtraFly or PrimeFly fares will also be able to purchase additional services.

The branded fares that provide standard seat selection do not include emergency exit seats. Extra leg room seating will continue to be available to purchase as per original rules.
